

Electronic Systems Inc. Conflict Minerals Statement

June 19, 2014

To whom it may concern:

Electronic Systems, Inc. is aware of the reporting obligations of all Public companies providing financial reports to the SEC detailed in Section 1501 of the U.S. Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act.

Electronic Systems Inc. is a privately held electronics manufacturing service provider which does not manufacture any raw components. As such, Electronic Systems Inc. does not have reporting obligations to the SEC. As an electronics manufacturing service provider, we have no direct relationship with any smelter or metal producer. We purchase all of our electronic components and supplies from major recognized distributors or manufacturers. The components and supplies we purchase are in accordance with each customer's Approved Manufacturers Lists and print specifications. We have limited control over components which our customers may specify for use in their final products. We will perform due diligence for our customers that do have the reporting obligations.

As part of our commitment to global social responsibility and in accordance with Section 1502 of Dodd-Frank; Electronic Systems, Inc. expects our suppliers to source material from environmentally and socially responsible supply chains. If it is determined that a supplier is purchasing raw materials which benefit armed groups in the DRC or adjoining countries we will notify the customer to determine if they want to disqualify that supplier and approve an alternate on their Bill of Materials. We will continue to work with our suppliers to verify that they and their suppliers use DRC conflict free minerals.
